Automatic Voter Registration?

In the New York Times, April 6, 2006, John B. Anderson and Ray Martinez III advocate automatic voter registration for all high school seniors. "Only 72% of eligible citizens were registered to vote in 2004... And the registration rate among 18- to 24-year-olds was a dismal 58%, which helps explain why voter turnout for this age group in the presidential election was far below the national average. That's simply unacceptable," say Anderson and Martinez. They maintain that students needing community service hours to graduate could work in election offices to fulfil that requirement. "Of course, voter registration is no guarantee of turnout, but it is the first — and often, most difficult — step. There is perhaps no better place to begin this critical task than our high schools. By improving our registration and education efforts, we will not only help protect the voting preferences of younger Americans but the long-term vitality of our participatory democracy. Let's not leave any voters behind." To read the full article, go to www.nytimes.com (free registration required).

We're a Step Ahead of the NY Times

The League has visited seven of eight high schools in Loudoun County to register eligible seniors to vote. To date, 1,174 new voters have registered. Congratulations to Jean Brown, who coordinated the effort, and her team.

President's Column

We have had a great year in League and had many successes. I ask each of you to make an effort to come celebrate with us on June 10, 2006 at Tuscarora Mill Restaurant in Leesburg from 11:30 to 1:30. We will elect a 2nd Vice President, Treasurer, and three Board of Director members. The nominating committee, led by Gem Bingol, has really done an outstanding job this year in finding qualified members to serve our local League for the next two years. The annual meeting is about celebrating our accomplishments, electing officers, making new friends, and reacquainting ourselves with friends.

Social Sciences Fair

The League has been invited to judge the annual high school Social Sciences Fair at Freedom High School in South Riding May 31 - June 1. The League also awards a prize to a project in keeping with League values.

Meet Your Legislator in April

Mark Herring (33rd), Del. Chuck Caputo (D-67th), Del. Robert Marshall (R-13th), Del. David Poisson (D-32nd), and Del. Tom Rust (R-86th) met more than 200 students and teachers from Loudoun County's high school government classes on Tuesday, April 4 at Stone Bridge High School in Ashburn.

Each legislator noted accomplishments or failures of the 2005 General Session. The students wanted to know about immigration, transportation, after-school activities, health insurance, and more. The legislators were impressed with their depth of understanding of the issues.

Thanks to Sheryl Wolfe, moderator, and League members Marina Amat, Kristen Kalina, Denise Donnelly, Barbara Bearman, and Joan and Fred Hand
